The Battle-Cry of Freedom.

We are marching to the field, boys, we're going to the fight,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom;
And we bear the glorious stars for the Union and the right,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom!
The Union forever! hurrah, boys, hurrah!
Down with the traitors, up with the Stars!
For we're marching to the field, boys, going to the fight,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom.

We will meet the rebel hosts, boys, with fearless heart and true,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom;
And we'll show what Uncle Sam has for loyal men to do,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom!
The Union forever, &c.

If we fall 'mid the fray, boys, we'll face them to the last,
Shouting the battle-cry of Freedom!

Yes, for Liberty and Union we're springing to the fight,

The Mania for Postage Stamps.

"Have you a blue Sardinian?" "I'll give you a black Prussian for a Russian." "I want a yellow Saxon." Such is the incomprehensible jargon that frequently puzzles grave fathers of families at their own breakfast tables, or startles the propriety of decorous matrons and maiden aunts, in their after dinner retirement with a circle of precocious youngsters. What, in the name of the present year of grace, does it all mean?

The Stamp Collector's Magazine on our writing table endeavors to inform us. The numbers date from the commencement of the present year; they are very neatly printed, and ornamented by a frontispiece representing animated groups of all nations reading and writing letters, and despatching tales, and otherwise encouraging good fellowship, and constant intercommunication. The journals are issued monthly, and the price is four shillings per annum. Each number of the periodical presents its subscribers with an "unobliterated foreign or colonial postage stamp."

So—the murder is out. The key to the whole is contained in this single announcement. These magazines are merely the representatives of a widely spread mania for stamp-collecting, which, running through all classes of the community, even as did the lottery fever or frank mania of old times, has succeeded in elevating itself to the rank of a remunerative and respectable business, capable of being conducted alike by tradesmen in their shops and warehouses, or by private parties, who, wishing to increase their little means, can bargain with their customers through the medium of advertisements or letters.

The traffic in used and unused postage stamps of various colors and countries, for the purpose of forming collections and stocking albums, first commenced in Belgium, among the girls and boys at the numerous schools or pensions in that country. Their elders, amused at the outset by their earnestness and enthusiasm in so apparently trivial a fancy, ended by imbibing the infection, which rapidly spread throughout France and Germany. Soon there was a kind of regular exchange held on the Boulevard Sebastopol, in Paris, for the buying and selling of postage stamps. This was speedily suppressed by the local authorities; but even at the present moment, in defiance or evasion of a law which prohibits all traffic in the gardens of the Tuileries, amateurs assemble there every Sunday and Thursday, and manage to carry on this new species of traffic "under the rose."

When the mania reached London, its victims established a temporary exchange in Birchin Lane, in the city, and in several of the alleys leading therefrom. This was in the spring of 1862, when, during the pleasant twilight of the short evenings, a most animated scene was presented for the amusement of the philosophical observer. From fifty to a hundred individuals, old men, youths, and mere boys, middle aged persons of unimpeachable respectability, ladies of modest and decorous presence, even more than one personage of exalted rank, bargaining and contending in this singular traffic with the utmost eagerness and vivacity—such was the tableau vivant which stayed the steps of the least interested passer by. The value of stamps in this exchange being wholly suppositious, was subject to considerable fluctuations; single stamps being rated on one and the same night at a penny or twopence or a shilling in value; or a small collection would pass from hand to hand, increasing in the course of an hour or two from two shillings to four, eight, or even ten shillings. The Birchen Lane exchange, like its prototype in Paris, was eventually put down by the police; and any later dealings there have necessarily been surreptitious.

Dr. Gray, of the British Museum, and other writers on the subject—which has already an established literature of its own—enumerate various advantages, mental and moral, to be derived from the hearty prosecution of this whimsical species of commerce. According to these eminent amateurs of the science, the sedulous collecting and classification of postage stamps teaches geography, history, the statistics and political positions of distinct countries; inculcates business habits, commercial confidence, order, honor, and punctuality; and affords room for the display of much artistic taste and skill in the arrangement of the many tinted and often beautifully engraved stamps in the albums specially contrived for that purpose.

Admitting the British Colonies into our calculations, there are more than forty modifications of Queen Victoria's portrait, in several different shades of color. The postage stamp of the lowest money value at its ordinary rate is the "centime" of France, worth a fraction less than two fifths of an English farthing, the highest being the four dollar California Pony Express, representing the sum of sixteen shillings and four pence. For beauty of form and hue, the postage stamps of France and Greece, and among our own dependencies, those of Nova Scotia bear away the palm; while the English penny postage stamp and the Postage stamps of Belgium are about on a par, as far as ugliness is concerned. Siberian stamps are of the largest size issued; and those of Mecklenburgh Schwerin take rank as the smallest. For scarcity and daily increasing value, the old issues of the Bourbon and New Caledonia, and those of Spain, Portugal, British Guiana, and Van Dieman's Land may be specially particularized. So may the stamps of the Sandwich Islands, Nicaragua and the Phillipines, which are extremely rare; as are also those of the Italian Duchies. Such of our readers as may wish to turn "an honest" future "penny," should hasten forthwith to make a large investment in Roman Pontifical stamps; which are with good reason expected, at no very distant date, to attain an almost fabulous value.

Temporary issues are always rare and valuable. Some time ago, the supply of postage stamps failed in the British Colony at the Cape of Good Hope. There was a delay in procuring "the needful" from the mother country, and pending its arrival, native artists produced some poor imitations of the requisite stamps. These spurious stamps are now almost impossible to be procured, especially the three penny and four penny ones. Local stamps employed within narrow limits invariably fetch high prices. Those of the Confederate States are much in demand.

Among the various modes of disposing of postage stamps, they are sometimes made the object of a raffle. A number of individuals will subscribe, say a shilling each, for the chances of obtaining a collection of stamps of two or more hundreds in extent. Stamp merchants keep their depots all over the country; many of them entirely subsisting by this novel traffic. In London alone there exist at least a dozen regular dealers in stamps; while our seaports, especially the important one of Liverpool, abound with them. Some dealers confine themselves to "maculate" or "immaculate" stamps—the fashionable terms for "obliterated" and "unused;" others deal exclusively in scarce or obsolete varieties. Some are willing to see or exchange; others again, combining with this abnormal commerce more ordinary trades, present their customers with stamps according to their amount of patronage. Stamps are purchased "on commission;" agents are advertised for; lists of articles are distributed to parties concerned. Collections of stamps are frequently advertised for sale by private individuals, varying in extent from two or three hundred to a thousand or more, and offered at prices averaging from ten to forty pounds. Albums to contain these are got up in every style, from plain cloth, at one shilling, to "best morocco relief, with clasps," at one pound five. Stamps are likewise received by benevolent individuals to sell for charitable purposes; and given away as prizes to the solvers of riddles in struggling periodicals. Lastly, there are numbers of private persons, many of them being youths of fourteen or even younger, who contrive to make a remunerative speculation of their dealings in stamps.

But let amateurs beware of forgeries. These are so frequent, and the differences that exist between a real and a forged stamp are so exceedingly minute and difficult of detection, that the constant employment of a magnifying glass is strenuously recommended by the initiated. The Swiss are noted forgers, and circulated, with impunity, several kinds of spurious Zurichs. There are likewise in circulation good imitations of the Danish stamps. Some issues are wholly fictitious. Of this class are "Verein Hamburgers," designed and issued by no higher authority than an unscrupulous and enterprising engraver.

The stamp mania, or timbromania, is not always views in a purely business or scientific aspect; it has its absurd and amusing relations with life. Of such was the ridiculous display made at a Parisian balmasque, by a gentleman who might have found a better employment for his money. This reckless individual attracted universal attention by presenting himself in a costume entirely covered with postage stamps, about a third of which were "immaculate." The original texture of his hat was concealed by a quantity of French ten and fifteen centimes a percevoir, a stamp answering to our double postage, levied on unpaid or underpaid letters.

A new galop may be seen in the windows of any music shop in London, the title-page of which is ornamented with fac-similes of foreign postage stamps, in all their various colors. The galop itself is entitled "Arthur O'Leary's Stamp Galop."

Down in the city, an enterprising tradesman displays behind his glittering plate-glass panes an assortment of curious breast pins, consisting of imitations of foreign stamps, enameled in their several delicate hues, and set in gold.

Some postage stamp collectors, especially in private life, devote their energies to storing up vast quantities of stamps of a particular issue, trusting to the good offices of time to render them exceedingly scarce, and consequently valuable. We cannot accord our entire approbation to a few individuals among these far-seeing speculators, who are engaged in collecting and hoarding common English penny stamps; acting with a greedy eye to future profit in what every truly loyal subject of our beloved Queen trusts is still a remote period; that when the present feminine portraiture on our current stamps will necessitate a new issue, bearing the likeness of our then Gracious Sovereign and Defender of the Faith, King Edward VII.

AYER'S

Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,

ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 15, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then [illegible] taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. [illegible], Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of [illegible] Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills [illegible] in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion [illegible] are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. [illegible] HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., [illegible] 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN [illegible], M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 17, 1864

The New Democratic Party.

Down in Columbia County, the Democratic Committee have called a Convention to choose a delegate, and "to do any other business that may come before the meeting and a more thorrow organization of the party" That we may give a fair description of the proposed thorrow institution, we quote the grammatical conclusion of the characteristic call in full "This invitation is given to all those who think themselves as good as a negro, also to those who believe they are as loyal as any negro who will vote without taking the oath of allegiance, also to those who believe that the Government should take as good care of white widows and orphans as they do of the blacks" It is signed by Francis Perry, Chairman

Three requisites complete the Democratic character—one of thought and two of belief No principles are necessary—no love of country—no opposition to rebellion, but simply a comparison of one's self with the negro It is not even pretended that a man must be as good as a negro, but if he thinks so this will fill the bill, and he can be a Democrat Surely that is no very difficult qualification The next thing is to believe he is as loyal as any negro this is a choker and will make the party very small in Columbia or any other county, for we can point out thousands of darkies in the armies of the Union, whose loyalty is so distinctly manifested by their gallant defence of the Republic that no Democrat will dare to pretend, without thereby confessing his ignorance that his devotion to the cause of the country is for a moment to be compared with it So by their own test, Columbia County will have to disband its Democratic party, or only call in those whose loyalty is less than that of many of the negroes The last thing that goes to make a new school Democrat is the belief "that Government should take as good care of white widows and orphans as of the blacks" As we never heard of anybody who does not cherish such [illegible], we hardly think much will be made [illegible] his pretence of sympathy for those who have suffered affliction because of the infamous wickedness of the Democratic party which made the war and sustains the rebels in its prosecution Let these fellows who affect so much pity, stop their sympathy for [illegible] lawless traitors who kill fathers and husbands and they may then without shame express their sorrow, but now their conduct is [illegible] hypocrisy They stand by while murder [illegible] committed they even encourage the assassin in his bloody work, and then look with tender compassion on the wives and children of the slain victim! Shame, everlasting shame on such arrant fraud—on such lying pretences! They would deserve more respect, if in their call to meet together, professedly as Democrats, but really to devise modes to defeat the Government, and to help Democracy as exemplified by Jeff Davis they should unite all who hate the negro as free, and love him as a slave—all who detest and denounce loyalty whether manifested by white or black, and all who are in favor of making orphans and widows for the sake of perpetuating slavery and restoring its strength, so that Democracy may thereby acquire a new lease of its mischievous life Such an invitation would call things by their right names, and would prepare the way for "a more thorrow organization of the party"

The Roseburg Resolutions

We commend these excellent expositions of political truth to the attention of our readers, as we are sure that they will be found to contain not only the expressions of patriotism to be expected from a Union Convention, but also practical suggestions, upon the recognition of which, the integrity and prosperity of the Union party must rest They expose and denounce a great mischief—one, which unless speedily checked, will be certain to overwhelm the party with shameful corruption, or by dividing it, ensure utter defeat This is no time to allow wrong to be done, in the hope that all will become right, for by so doing wrong only becomes stronger and more impervious, We are glad, therefore, that the Convention at Roseburg frankly and decidedly took the true position which is expressed in the third resolution The people ought not to be controlled or betrayed by official interference, and if watchful of their own interests, they will wholly repudiate all dictation which comes from those whose position gives them a living, but should not give them any more influence than justly belongs to them as citizens. They have their rights, but these are no greater than those of any other person When they, by virtue of their office, whether gained honorably and filled worthily or not assume to say who shall be the candidates of the party, or endeavor by the use of official patronage, to secure their own nominations, their action cannot fail to cause dissatisfaction and disgust. The example of Democratic officeholders in this State, who seemed to suppose that they had an inherent right to control nominations, ought to teach their successors a lesson of prudence It ought to be remembered as proof that the people will resent official interference, and will insist on acting independently of such dictation

This subject presses itself upon the Union party at this present time with special force for several reasons, which we need not now specify, but it is our earnest hope and belief that the action of the Union party in Douglas county will meet with a cordial response from every honest patriot in Oregon. If so there will be no reason to fear weakness or defeat Bargains and combinations to gain personal ends will find no place —a free and untrammeled choice of the people will be effected, and the disgraceful corruption which has destroyed the Democratic party and seemed likely to eat out the vitals of the Union organization, will pass away leaving room for that wholesome purity and manly integrity, which are the only sure foundations of political prosperity

A Loyal Woman's Trial.

The writer of the following letter recently arrived in Iowa, tells a story of hardships suffered under the tyranny of rebellion and "the peculiar institution," which requires no comment We commend it to the attention of the ardent admirers of Southern chivalry who never grow weary in denouncing the Government for its treatment of traitors, and ask them to point out any instance on record, equalling this enormous cruelty inflicted upon a woman because she loved the Union

My residence was Yazoo Co, Mississippi I had a son 19 years old, killed at home by a citizen rebel, because he was a Union man and would not be forced to fight against his country Those who have never experienced the loss of their most beloved cannot imagine the distress of a mother on such an occasion I was taken as a tory—tried and abused in every conceivable manner I was placed in Yazoo City jail and remained in it two months and one day I was put down in what is called the hounds I discovered an aperture in the wall, of which I was not slow in taking advantage I, immediately upon discovering the aperture, emerged from my desolate abode I concluded that I had escaped from Southern tyranny—made my way down to Little Sunflower River I was recaptured and taken back towards Yazoo City 12 miles, I feigned sickness and the man that held me in custody concluded to take me to his house for a few days where I would be cared for until I would partially recover I took possession of his "dug out" or boat, and again made my escape I rowed the boat 120 miles up Sunflower River —18 days going up during which time I never saw the face of man I cannot describe the sufferings which I underwent my bed, for 18 long nights, was the boat I rowed, by day, I had, however, taken a supply of rations with me sufficient to last me in my journey through the wilderness On arriving at Deer Creek, I was taken again by the enemy as a spy, and sent to Snyder's Bluffs and from there to Vicksburg—remained three weeks—was sent to Jackson, Mississippi and was there three weeks. Gen. Grant in the meantime, captured it and I for the first time fell into the hands of friends I acted as nurse in the Union hospital six weeks I was thinking I was perfectly safe, but my imagination had led me astray, I was recaptured with all the Union garrison and sent from there in company with the Union prisoners, to Richmond, Va I was placed in the Castle Thunder Prison, and from there I was sent to City Point to be released—suffice to say I was released I arrived at my brother Josiah Howdeschelts, living in Lyons township, Mills county, Iowa, about the 1st of September, 1863

Before the rebellion broke out I was in good circumstances, I have lost every thing that I had in this world, as far as property is concerned, for the sake of my country

Mr Editor, my story is finished—my troubles are passed—I only regret one thing, and that is that those Northern traitors don't have to go through the same or worse troubles, for their bad faith to their country, that I have had to go through for my country.

DOUGLAS COUNTY UNION RESOLUTIONS —The following resolutions were passed by the County Convention, of the County of Douglas held at Roseburg, on the 12th of March, 1864

Resolved, 1st That this Convention support the Federal Government in its measures to suppress rebellion and restore the Union on the basis of free institutions as it here by instructs its delegates to the State Convention and its Representatives in the Legislature to support no man for office either State or Federal whose present professions or past acts, or sayings admit of a doubt of his soundness on these vital measures and our Representatives are further instructed to oppose the passage of any law which might hinder or embarrass the Federal Government in its war or financial measures for the suppression of rebellion and restoration of the Union.

2d This Convention acknowledges the right of the people to instruct and the duty of the representative to obey the instructions of a majority of his constituents in the discharge of his official duties and in matters not in issue in a canvass and settled by an election we declare it to be the duty of the representative to obey the wishes of a majority of his constituents irrespective of their opinions on other questions, and our delegates to the State Convention and Representatives in the Legislature are hereby instructed to be governed by this principle in their official acts and to support no man for office who denies the right of instruction—or who at any time has disobeyed or disregarded the majority of his constituents.

3d This Convention condemns the practice prevalent in this State of men holding offices of influence and patronage taking part in the political meetings of the people holding seats in, or exercising their influence over the members of nominating conventions to obtain office for themselves or for others by the use, or promise of official favor or patronage We condemn it, as a practice calculated to corrupt Conventions and Legislatures to disappoint the people in the free choice of their public servants—a practice unknown to the early and purer days of the Republic, and should not be tolerated and our delegates and Representatives are hereby instructed to resist and oppose all corrupt influences exerted by means of official favor or patronage as they should be [illegible] in any other form; and as he who accepts office is thereby morally bound to discharge the duties thereof for the term for which he is elected or appointed our delegates and Representatives are further instructed to vote for no man for any trust or office who already holds a lucrative or influential office State or Federal unless the term of the office held expires before the commencement of the office sought

4th Officers whose functions are ministerial, though elected by a political party and from a particular section of the county should discharge their official duties equally without favor to friends, or disfavor to opponents or special preference of their own, over other sections of the county and such officers nominated by this Convention are instructed to discharge their respective duties in accordance with the principles of this resolution.

5th That our delegates to the State Convention to be held at Albany and our Representatives in the State Legislature are hereby instructed to urge the adoption of the principles declared in the first, second and third of those resolutions by those bodies

DESERTER SHOT —Francis Ely sentenced to die for desertion, was shot at Fort Walla Walla on the 11th inst If the telegraph had reached the post, it is probable that his life would have been saved, as the President by proclamation last week commuted the punishment of all deserters under sentence, and ordered them to be confined at Tortugas during the war

A GOOD RECORD —Says Gov Andrews of Massachusetts

I know not what record of sin awaits me in the other world, But this I do know, that I never was so mean as to despise any man because he was poor, because he was ignorant or because he was black "

I have placed the King of Dahomey and Mr Davis together, because they belong together. The two gentlemen are associates in business They do the same work deal in the same article and in the same spirit—the spirit of savage despotism and the lowest pecuniary speculation The King of Dahomey sweeps the adjoining territories with his armies, in order to procure a supply of the glorious staple, while Mr Davis has organized his rebellion for the purpose of creating a large demand The firm consists of three parties The King of Dahomey is the resident agent in Africa, Mr Davis the head partner resides for the present at Richmond the third partner of inferior rank, but equal utility and merit, is the slave trader—the ferocious pirate who carries the human cargo from Africa to Cuba, and whom the success of the rebellion would admit into the ports of New Orleans Charleston New York and Boston Both empires have the same object and are built on the corner stone. If Mr Davis succeeds it will consolidate and extend the empire of Dahomey If the King of Dahomey and his compeers be suppressed the whole enterprise of Mr Davis must fall for want of supply

Condition of the United States

We make the following extract from the speech of Mr Bright of England, in relation to the United States It tells the truth in a small compass and must have its effect on the people of England He says

Look at the power which the United States have developed They have brought more men into the field built more ships for their navy and have shown greater resources than any nation of Europe is capable of Look at the order which has prevailed Their elections at which as you see by the papers, 50 000 or 100 000 or a quarter of a million persons voted, in a given State are conducted with less disorder than you have seen lately in three of the smallest boroughs in England Look at their industry, Notwithstanding this terrific struggle their manufactures and commerce proceed with an uninterrupted success and they are ruled by a president not chosen it is true, from some wornout royal or noble blood but from the people and whose truthfulness and spotless honor have gained him universal praise [Loud cheers The country has been vilified through half the organs of the press in England during the last three years and has been pointed out too as an example to be shunned by many of your statesmen,—that country now in mortal strife, affords a haven and a home for multitudes flying from the burdens and neglect of the old governments of Europe [Cheers] And when this mortal strife is over, when peace is restored, when slavery is destroyed when the Union is cemented fresh—for I would say in the language of one of her own poets addressing this country,—

The grave's not dug where traitor hands shall lay
In fearful haste thy murdered corse away

then Europe and England may learn that an instructed Democracy is the surest foundation of government and that education and freedom are the only sources of true greatness and true happiness among any people

WILLAMETTE TRADE —The steamers of the Willamette, from its source to this place, come and go well loaded with passengers and freight Under the present state of affairs farmers are offered inducements that have never been surpassed, to ship their produce to market, and being a fixed and reliable mode of transportation, is much better for them as it can be depended upon permanently We have always looked upon "opposition" lines of steamers on this river as being of no ultimate benefit to the community at large, as the policy of carrying passengers and freight below a certain figure, could only last for a brief space of time, and then the ruinous system would be abolished for a higher tariff in order to make up for losses sustained in the "opposition" Now we have a sure, safe and speedy line of steamers, both here and on the Columbia, of which we are, and should be, proud, and it is found much better for all concerned

WILLAMETTE TRADE—The steamers of the Willamette, from its source to this place, come and go well loaded with passengers and freight. Under the present state of affairs farmers are offered inducements that have never been surpassed, to ship their produce to market, and being a fixed and reliable mode of transportation, is much better for them, as it can be depended upon permanently. We have always looked upon "opposition" lines of steamers on this river as being of no ultimate benefit to the community at large, as the policy of carrying passengers and freight below a certain figure, could only last for a brief space of time, and then the ruinous system would be abolished for a higher tariff, in order to make up for losses sustained in the "opposition" Now we have a sure, safe and speedy line of steamers, both here and on the Columbia, of which we are, and should be proud, and it is found much better for all concerned.

PORTLAND STOCK BOARD—We learn that several of our citizens, interested in the various Mining Companies, organized in this State and Idaho, have formed a Stock Board, consisting of the following members: R R Thompson, President, Jno. McCraken, Secretary, H D Green, J. C Ainsworth, E W Tracy, P C Schuyler, jr., D F Bradford, T A Davis, J Myrick, L Brooke. Meetings are held every evening, though as yet no stocks are put up for sale, the present purpose of the Board being rather the investigation of the merits and prospects of each company for forming a proper list, than immediate sales.

THE FIRE IN THE WOODS—The excessive dryness of the undergrowth and fallen timber in the woods, renders the spreading of the fire beyond what any body expected, at the outbreak. We have already alluded to the losses sustained, by citizens in the way of the destroying element, and the roll still augments. We were informed last evening by Mr Gunn, purser of the Julia, that a large amount of property has been destroyed in the vicinity of Stiles' Landing—Mr Stiles lost his barns and their contents, Mrs. Osman has lost her house, stables and fencing, and Mr Richard Howe his fencing. There was also a fire above Cape Horn, burning furiously, when the Julia passed. The people have had great difficulty to save anything.

PLEASURE BOAT—The sloop Christina, Capt. Dodge, is undergoing a refitting, to be used as a pleasure boat. She is expected to make a trip to-morrow. The cabin has been enlarged and improved, and she now has ample room for thirty persons—about enough to make up a pleasant pic nic party. Capt. Dodge made a three weeks voyage on this sloop, last summer, taking his family and a few invited guests, visiting Astoria, and several prominent places, having a fine time, enjoying the breezes and scenery of the Columbia, away from the dust and heat of the city.

THE WATER WORKS—The water company is busily engaged in putting down large and iron pipes in several streets, thereby making their works permanent, and securing an abundant supply of the "raw material." If any of the Company's customers think they pay high prices for what costs but little, they have only to look at the costly tubes and appliances which are being buried for the benefit of the public.

—Perry Vickers, the man who overboard from the steamer Idaho, while a prisoner in charge of Sheriff Ladd, and who was held to bail at the last session of the Circuit Court, for good behavior for one year, filed his bonds yesterday, and was released from jail.

ACCIDENT—Mr Rassette, well known to traveling Oregonians as the pioneer of the Rassette House in San Francisco, was instantly killed at the Chollar Mine in Washoe, on the 1st inst., by being precipitated down a shaft some one hundred and twenty feet.

STOCK SHIPMENTS—The steamer Julia carried 140 head of stock to the Cascades yesterday. The barge Carrie Ladd was taken to Sauvie's Island to load for the trip to day, in which the Julia will carry fifty head of horses, thirty five of cattle, and 165 of hogs and sheep.

HARD PUSHED FOR FODDER—A cow, which was supposed to be in the last stages of consumption, had managed to work her way into the canyon, under the Front street bridge yesterday, where she was engaged in selecting the straws from broken glass, boxes, etc., thrown there, to waste, for fodder.

BOILER FOR OWYHEE—The large boiler that has been lying on Couch's wharf so long, is to be taken to the new mines by Messrs Fountain & LaFeile, to furnish steam for working their large 5 stamp quartz mill. This is a new boiler, weighs about 2200 and was manufactured at Rochester, New York.

DULL SALES—Several Cayuses, brought to Portland for sale, were returned to the Cowlitz, on the last trip of the steamer Rescue, the demand not being equal to the prices asked.

TREASURE—Mr West, (Wells, Fargo & Co's Messenger,) arrived on the Hunt last evening, bringing about $18,000 in treasure. There was no express connection beyond Walla Walla.

TELEGRAPHIC MISTAKE—Mr Sparks, Assessor of Washington Territory, has not been removed, as reported. Mr Moore, named as his successor, was confirmed as collector of revenue, in place of Major Goldsborough.

LO! AS A NAVIGATOR—"Lo!" the poor Indian, was navigating the river yesterday in imitation of the white man, with sails all set, to his canoe. In the afternoon he was out with his family, and made quite a show.

FLOUR BY THE CORD—In very many places throughout the city we observe flour stowed away by the cord. There is little doing in the way of traffic in the article at present.

ST PATRICK—We publish a sketch of this Patron Saint, on the 4th page of our paper, to-day.

LOST—Near the corner of Washington and Third streets, a small gold watch key, the finder will please leave it at this office.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS—Council met last evening. Present—Austin Dodge, Knott, Lucas, Monastes, Sutton, Zeiber.

Report of City Collector relative to collection of special tax, and injunction thereon was read and referred to committee on ways and means.

Communication from the City Attorney relative to the sustaining of the injunction suit in the case of certain tax payers vs the city, and his opinion thereon was adopted and ordered to be printed in one of the city papers.

The City Clerk was instructed to make out a new tax roll for the delinquents with an accompanying warrant and 5 per cent added, instructing the Collector to make returns there on prior to the 10th day of April next.

A motion that an appeal be taken from the Circuit Court, on the validity of the special tax, was lost.

Bill of J H McCoy, $84 75 expenses incurred in returning goods levied upon, in accordance with Circuit Court decision, was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Bills of Fetes & Stimson and L J Northrup, were ordered paid.

J D Dunseth was awarded the contract of painting the plaza fence at the rate of 10 cts per running foot, and W H Frush the contract of building the side walk around the same, at 50 cts per foot, provided that both parties file a bond that they will not employ convict labor on the same.

A resolution to refund the special tax already collected, was laid upon the table.

After some other business of unimportance was transacted the Council adjourned.

NEWSPAPER FOR LAGRANDE—The citizens of the Grand Ronde Valley are soon to be furnished with a Printing Office. One of the proprietors, Mr VanCleve, called upon us last evening. The material is taken from the stock of the State Journal establishment at the Dalles. The locality hit upon for such an enterprise, is decidedly a good one. La Grande has grown wonderfully for a year past, and promises fair to become an important depot.

CATTLE DYING—Mr H A Levins informs us that he has lost ten head of cattle by poison, and that in and about his neighborhood, and up and down the Columbia for miles, the woods were full of dead animals. This is in consequence of the feed being scarce, and the eagerness of stock in catching the first green thing they can find, taking a poison weed. Persons taking stock through that section should guard it well.

HEARD FROM—The prisoners that escaped from the Dalles recently have been heard from—headed, by the swindler Hoyt, they were making tracks for British Columbia, through the timbers of Washington Territory. Our informant says that Indians were engaged to follow them, and the prospects of capturing the party were bright.

DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE
FOR BALD HEADS.

IT IS NOT MY INTENTION TO HUMBUG THE PUBlic. This Restorative has built up a world wide reputation upon its own merits as is considered by those who have used it to be the best article ever invented for the Hair. Read the following certificate.

Lewiston Sept. 21 1863

This is to certify that I have used DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE and I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and effectual preparation for the restoration of the Hair. I was nearly bald when I commenced the use of it, and after using two bottles I find it has produced a fine, healthy growth of hair and that too in less than two months. I can heartily recommend it for its great virtues and efficiency. S D RAMSDELL

Saint Patrick

This being Saint Patrick's Day, we think it proper to give a little sketch of that illustrious Apostle of Christianity not only for the pleasure of people of his faith, but for all who can feel admiration for Christian heroism The subject is so grand, so full of poetry, so thrilling [illegible] of the heart that we have [illegible] it with our feeble pen

Saint Patrick, the Ap[illegible]le [illegible] was not an Irishman He was a native of Gaul—what is now France and which was then a province of the Roman Empire He was born about the year 390 of the Christian Era and when sixteen years of age, he was taken prisoner by the Irish King Nial, in one of his expeditions to Gaul, and was carried to Ireland, and according to the customs of the time, he became a slave The Gallic captive fell to the lot of one Milcho, who during seven years employed him as a cattle herd Patrick then escaped, or was set at liberty, returned to his native country and went thence to Rome to prepare himself for the priesthood While tending Milcho's herds, he had matured a plan for the conversion of the Irish people, who were then groping in the dismal shadows of Paganism Twenty years after his escape, full panoplied in the armor of faith and bearing with him the charter of a Roman Catholic Bishop, Patrick set out for Ireland Arriving with his companions in the Irish Sea and intending to land, the barbarians stoned him away from the shore, and with a heavy heart and uplifted crucifix, the brave missionary turned off and sailed down to Antrim where some of the Pagans were converted while Patrick celebrated Mass in a barn After a while he came to the house of his old master, Milcho, who scorned to learn of one who had been his slave, and drove him away It was then that the indomitable heart of Patrick rose to the sublimity of high resolve Kneeling on the old familiar spots where he had sat pondering in his bondage twenty years before, he made the sign of the cross in the sand, and then stretching his hands toward Heaven, invoked the intercession of Mary and strength and courage from her Son, that he might confront the savage powers of Pagan darkness in their very citadel Tara was then the Irish Capital, and thither Patrick and his little band of disciples took their way Having landed at the mouth of the Boyne, the Apostle took leave of his boatmen, bidding them to stay there a certain number of days, and then if he did not return to consider him dead and be gone With a few faithful followers, he traversed the great plain between the mouth of the Boyne and the heathen Capital, and on the third day having ascended the "Slope of the Chariots," they came to an eminence overlooking the illustrious "Tara's Hall" It happened to be the Eve of Easter, and in the distant palace, King Leary, surrounded by his lords, vassals and Druids, was celebrating his birthday with dance and song, and all the wild revelries that delighted his people The Harp that hung in "Tara's Hall," was then full of exultant melody, but deep darkness hovered over the Green Isle and the stalwart warriors knew nothing of Him of whom Patrick came to tell The lights glanced from the banqueting hall, the sound of revelry burred on the startled ear of night, while the [illegible] Path of Queen Mab stood ruined and solitary in the distance, typifying the desolation that would come over the Irish Capital The Druids or heathen priests, were masters of the [illegible], and the time had come when the fires were to be put out that they might be after a while relighted by a sacred torch, consecrated to their gods. Patrick and his followers, watching the grand pageant from the [illegible] grew cold and hungry, and [illegible] them to make a fire Presently the [illegible] from their camp while the valley was wrapped in darkness, and instantly a wild yell of vengeance came up from the invisible city Who had thus dared [illegible] the sacred darkness by unholy fire? What [illegible] would venture to light one until the flame had been brought from the [illegible] the gods? The warriors grasped their [illegible] and rushed up the hill to tear the [illegible] to pieces, and Patrick and his disciples were dragged down the "Slope of the Chariots," and thence to the hall of judgment All the way down he kept reciting prayers to the blessed Trinity, and when he entered the enraged assembly, contrary to the hospitalities of Tara, no one rose to afford him a seat At length a chieftain pitied the lonesome stranger, and remembering the indecorum, rose and offered his place to the unknown friendless one, who was asked why he had dared to thus profane the religion of the country? Then like the heroic Paul, Patrick stood forth and answered for himself During his captivity he had learned their language The poor cowherd had loved his enslavers, and after twenty years had returned to them with the burden of Salvation. He preached to them all night long He spake as never man had spoken in Tara, he told them the story of the Nazarene—of the Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, of baptism, of the eucharist, of all the sublime faith of the Church of Rome Never, since Paul stood on Mars Hill preaching to the Athenians, had such fiery eloquence flowed from the tongue of an Apostle The people began to believe, and fell into debate one with another The Arch Druid was converted, together with two daughters of the King, and the three were baptized The tumult increased, and Patrick preached on until the day dawn began to reveal the Blackwater and the Boyne together with the hills of Cavan and heights of Slane But the people couldn't understand the mystery of the Trinity, and with the dawn their faith began to return to their idols The assembly was in the field and suddenly stooping to the ground Patrick caught up a sprig of trefoil or Shamrock and holding it up, showed them how three leaves grew from one stalk, and yet the stem and its leaves were but one Instantly the quick witted people understood They shouted such a shout as Tara had never heard in her loudest revelry and triumph They rushed upon the Apostle and would have carried him about like a conqueror From that time Druidical superstition and idolatry were overthrown on the Plains of Prostration

On the 17th of March, in the year of our Lord 493, Saint Patrick after a ministry of sixty years, and aged 103, died at the monastery of Saul, which had been built on the site of the old barn near Antrim, where he had celebrated Mass on first landing in Ireland And now, after thirteen hundred and seventy one years, when the sons and daughters of Erin meet to celebrate the anniversary of his translation to Heaven, let the former quaff a flowing cup to the memory of the illustrious Patron Saint and Benefactor of Ireland and let the night be as festive as that which witnessed the last Banquet of Idolatry in the Halls of Tara —Sacramento Union.

"Papa," said Mr Brown's youngest son the other day, "can't I go to the circus?" "No, my pet," affectionately replied Mr B, "if you are a good boy I will take you to see your grandmother's grave this afternoon"

The best capital for a young man is a young wife It is, at least, a sort of capital that is generally "productive," a point always considered in making investments

The Louisville Journal says "If any great artist wishes to get up a painting to be called the picture of desolation, he had better get the Rebel Confederacy to sit for him

The Offensive Religionist — Says the "Country Parson":

It must be admitted, with great regret, that people who make a considerable profession of religion have succeeded in making themselves more thoroughly disagreeable than almost any other human beings have made themselves You find people who claim not merely to be pious and Christian people, but to be very much more pious and Christian than others who are extremely uncharitable, unamiable, repulsive, stupid and intensely opinionated and self satisfied We know, from a very high authority that a Christian ought to be an ep[illegible] in commendation of the blessed faith he holds But it is beyond question that many people who profess to be Christians are like gum gorgons' heads, warning people off from having anything to do with Christianity — Why should a middle aged clergyman walk about the streets with a sullen and malignant scowl always on his face, which at the best, would be a very ugly one? Why should another walk with his nose in the air and his eyes rolled up, until they seem very likely to roll out? And why should a third be dabbled over with a clammy perspiration and prolong all his vowels to twice the usual length? It is indeed a most woful thing, that people who evince a spirit in every respect the contrary to that of our blessed Redeemer, should fancy that they are Christians of singular attainments and it is more woful still that many young people should be scared into religion or unbelief by the wretched delusion that these creatures, wickedly caricaturing Christianity, are fairly representing it I have seen more deliberate malice, more lying and cheating, more backbiting and slandering, denser stupidity and greater self sufficiency among bad hearted and wrong headed religionists than among any other human beings. I have known more malignity and slander conveyed in the form of prayer than should have consigned an ordinary slanderer to the pillory I have known a person who made evening prayer a means of infuriating and stabbing the servants, under the pretext of confessing their sins "Thou knowest, Lord, how thy servants have been occupied this day," with these words did the blasphemous mockery of prayer begin one Sunday evening, in a house I could easily indicate, and then the man, under the pretext of addressing the Almighty, raked up the misdoings of the servants (they being present of course,) in a fashion which, if he had ventured on at any other time, would probably have led some of them to assault him

The Blue Laws, according to Josh Billings —Josh Billings furnishes the Saturday Evening Post with a few of the old Connecticut Blue Laws, which, though not perhaps exactly correct, are good specimens

The old Konnecktikut blu laws are wonderful strick I have thought best to preserv sum of them for future posterity who cum after us

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

Pittsburg [illegible], May 1, 1856.

Dr J C Ayer Sir I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing

Yours with great respect,
ED W PREBLE Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

Department of the Interior Washington D C, 7 Feb, 1856

Sir I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them

Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M D, Physician of the Marine Hospital

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

Post Office, Hartland Liv Co Mich, Nov 15, 1855

Dr Ayer Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense but got no better [illegible] then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery One of our neighbors had it bad and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time without being cured entirely even then Such a medicine as yours which is actually good and honest will be prized here GEO J GRIFFIN Postmaster

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev J V Himes Pastor of Advent Church, Boston

Dr Ayer I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known and I can confidently recommend them to my friends J V HIMES

Warsaw Wyoming Co [illegible] Oct 24, 1855

Dear Sir I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood

JOHN G MEACHAM, M D

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St Louis, Feb 4, 1856

Dr. Ayer Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Gout.

From the Rev Dr Hawkes of the Methodist Epis Church

Pulaski House [illegible], Jan 6, 1856

Honored Sir I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

Senate Chamber, [illegible] 5 Dec, 1855

Dr. Ayer I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.
